Understanding the English Language

All the words in the English Language have been divided into groups. These word groups are called the Parts of Speech.

1. Nouns name a person, place, thing, an animal or an idea.
2. Pronouns (I, me, you) are used in place of nouns.
3. Adjectives (short, slow, clever) describe a noun or pronoun.
4. Verbs (is, run, hop) express actions or state of being.
5. Adverbs (slowly, softly, quickly) tell something about a verb, an adjective or another adverb.
6. Prepositions (on, near, over) show how a noun is related to some other words in the sentence.
7. Conjunctions (and, or, because) connect words or groups of words.
8. Interjections (Wow, Oh, Yikes!) show emotions or surprises.
9. Articles (a, an, the).

Pronouns

A pronoun is a word used in place of a noun.

The tables below are some examples of pronouns.

Personal Pronouns		Possessive Pronouns	Reflexive Pronouns
Subject	Object
I	me	mine	myself
you	you	yours	yourself
he	him	his	himself
she	her	hers	herself
we	us	ours	ourselves
they	them	theirs	themselves

- ✓ Personal Pronouns are used for people:
They are looking for you.

- ✓ Possessive Pronouns are used to indicate who owns the objects or ideas: These coins are yours.
- ✓ Reflexive Pronouns are used to refer to the personal pronouns: We did the work ourselves.

Demonstrative Pronouns

this	What is this ? This is a ball.
that	What is that ? That is a monkey.
these	What are these ? These are mangoes.
those	What are those ? Those are tadpoles.

- ✓ This and these are used for people, things or animals which are near the speaker.
- ✓ That and those are used for people, things or animals which are further away from the speaker.

Interrogative Pronouns are used to ask questions.

What	What are you holding in your hands?
Which	Which of these shirts is his?
Who	Who is in the room?
Whom	For whom are you baking the cakes?
Whose	Whose are these?

Relative Pronouns take the place of nouns. They are used to join two sentences into one.

Who	I know the boy who is waiting outside our house.
Which	My father bought a shirt which cost a hundred dollars.
That	This is the toy that my brother wanted.
Whose	She is the girl whose parents are teachers.
Whom	That is the neighbour with whom we shared the garden.

- ✓ Which is used for animals and things.
- ✓ That is used for persons, animals and things.
- ✓ What refers to things only.

Adjectives

An adjective is a describing word.
It tells you more about a noun.

Comparison of Adjectives

We compare adjectives in different ways.

✓ Positive form

When we do not compare a noun or an object with anyone or anything, we use the positive form:

Jason is a tall boy.

✓ Comparative form

When we compare two persons, places, things or ideas we use the comparative form:

Chee Beng is taller than Jason.

✓ Superlative form

When we compare more than two persons, places, things or ideas we use the superlative form:

Raj is the tallest of them all.

Punctuation

- The capital letter is used to start a sentence:

He is happy.

All proper nouns also begin with a capital letter:

Monday, Vincent, China, Prime Minister

When we quote something, we also use a capital letter:

She said, "The dog is very sick."

Titles of books, poems and newspapers are written like these:

Three Little Pigs, The Straits Times

When we refer to ourselves, we use the capital 'I':

My sister and I went to Sentosa last week.

- The full-stop (.) is used to mark the end of a sentence:

She puts fresh flowers into the vase.

- The comma (,) is used to separate words in a list:

Mother bought eggs, vegetables, fish and meat.

It is also used to separate a quotation from the rest of the sentence:

My aunt said, "Let's go shopping."

When we want to show a pause in passage or sentence, we also use a comma:

While she was drying her clothes, her mother called.

- The question Mark (?) is used at the end of a question:

Do you want to buy this bag?

- The apostrophe (') is used in contractions:
can't, couldn't, hasn't, won't, o'clock

It is also used to show ownership or possession:
John's book, the girls' dolls, children's toys

- The exclamation mark (!) is used after interjections or words which show surprise:

Wow! Oh! Aha! Hurray! Help! Ouch!

- The quotation marks (" ") are used in direct speech to enclose the words spoken by a person:

Jenny said, "I would like to have a cup of tea."

"Stop that thief!" said the policeman.
